Fr. Delihant, Celebrated Jesuit, Dies In Reading

The Rev. Thomas J. Delihant, S.J., died on February 28 in St. Joseph's Hospital, Reading, Pa. Father Delihant was well known to many Baltimoreans and to many alumni of the College, especially to parishioners of St. Ignatius' parish where he served during 1913-14.

He was instrumental in procuring many of the improvements on the Evergreen campus, and was a close friend of many of Loyola's faculty members.

Father Delihant entered the Society of Jesus on August 14, 1897. He taught at Holy Cross College from 1903 to 1906, and at St. Joseph's Prep, Philadelphia, until 1909. He was ordained a priest by the late Cardinal Gibbons at Woodstock College on June 24, 1912.

The well-known Jesuit completed his tertianship at St. Andrew-on-Hudson, and then taught at Loyola High School, Baltimore in 1913-14. After duty in parish work in New York, Father Delihant served as a chaplain in World War I.

Father Delihant was 70 years old when he died, and is survived by a brother, Gerald Delihant of Halethorpe, Maryland.

ASN Names Fourteen Men

Fourteen names have been submitted to the Office of the Dean for approval for acceptance into Alpha Sigma Nu, Jesuit Honor Fraternity. The announcement was made by John Evelius, Acting President of the local chapter, following a meeting on March 4.

The selections were made by John Evelius and Francis X. Gallagher, Acting Secretary of the group. At present there are no other members of the organization in attendance at the College.

Seven of the new members will be seniors and the remaining seven candidates were chosen from the class of July '50 and Jan. '50. A list of the newly-chosen members and a brief resume of their college activities will appear in the next issue of THE GREYHOUND.

A formal induction will be held in April; the Rev. Matthew G. Sullivan, S.J., Dean of Loyola, will officially receive the candidates.

Hounds Take Final Test From H-S

by Gerard W. McCormick

The Greyhounds tucked away their third straight Mason-Dixon Tournament crown last Thursday night by knocking off the Hampden-Sydney Tigers on the Catholic U. Court by a 70 to 59 score.

The Virginians, who took first place honors in regular league play without meeting Loyola, found the Greyhounds had too much of everything, especially Jim Lacy.

Gets 21 Points

Lacy fired 21 points through the hoops while leading the sharpshooting Green and Grey team to triumph. Climaxing his brilliant career in Mason-Dixon circles, Lacy was again named a unanimous choice on the All-Tournament team.

Throughout the first half Hampden-Sydney managed to keep fairly close to the Greyhounds and at the close of the first period were losing by only 35 to 29.

Greyhounds Spurt

Shortly after the start of the second half the Greyhounds caught fire and put the game on ice when they racked up 16 quick points while holding the Tigers to two. Bob Anderson and Andy O'Donnell, along with Lacy, were instrumental in this spurt which destroyed any hope of victory for the Virginians.

Anderson was second-high scorer for Loyola with 17 points, while O'Donnell scored 16 and held Hampden-Sydney's shooting ace, Bill Balas, to seven points. Mike Zedalis, also picked on the All-Tournament team, turned in an aggressive game under the backboards, and figured

Dean Sets Lee Contest Date

The Lee Oratorical Contest will be held on Friday, May 6, at 3:30 p.m. in the College Library, the Dean's Office recently announced. The forensic contest will be open to all members of the student body.

A board of judges will award a gold medal to the outstanding speaker of the afternoon. Contestants will be judged on the basis of composition and delivery. The speeches must not be over six minutes in length and can be written on any subject chosen by the speaker.

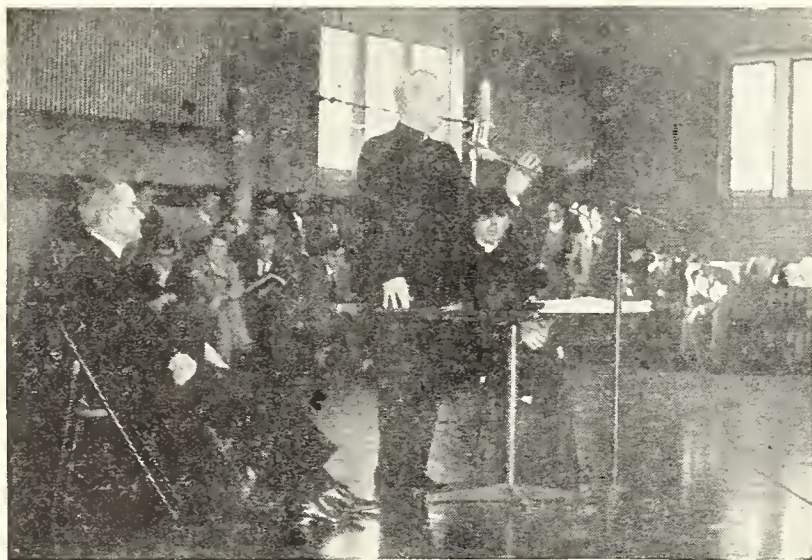

All students who intend to participate in the contest must submit their names to the Dean's Office before April 15.

The Lee Oratorical Contest was not held last year. The last student to win the gold medal was Robert Cooke in 1946.

Married Men's Club Sponsors Cana Discussions On April 24

The Married Men's Club of Loyola College will sponsor a Cana discussion on problems of married life on Sunday, April 24. A talk will be given by the Rev. John J. Scanlan, S.J., on the spiritual significance of marriage.

An informal discussion will follow during which the married men and their wives will have an opportunity to ask questions concerning personal and general marital difficulties. The event will open with Mass in the College chapel. A Communion breakfast will be held in the cafeteria.

The Rev. Raymond Goggin, S.J., speaks to Loyola students concerning the showers of rose petals at Lipa as Rev. John J. Ryan, S.J., and Rev. Leo P. Monaghan, S.J., look on.

300 Students Hear Accounts Of Lipa Rose Petal Showers

The Rev. John J. Ryan, S.J., and the Rev. Raymond Goggin, S.J., addressed approximately three hundred students of Loyola College concerning the mysterious showers of roses and the purported apparitions of Our Lady at Lipa Convent in the Philippines. The addresses took place in the Loyola Gymnasium on Wednesday, February 23, under the sponsorship of the Loyola Sodalties.

Both priests spoke at the invitation of the Rev. Leo P. Monaghan, S.J., who initiated local student interest in the Lipa happenings. Father Goggin had in his possession several rose petals which had been sent to him from Pipa. He placed them on display for the students. (See picture on page 2). On some of the petals, there are impressions of the Blessed Virgin who is reported to have appeared to a young nun at Lipa.

Publishes News Pamphlet

Father Ryan is the Moderator of the Reparation Society of the Immaculate Heart of Mary which publishes a monthly news pamphlet, Fatima Findings. The pamphlet has been carrying accounts of the strange happenings in the Philippines because of their close connection with the miracles at Fatima.

According to eye witness reports, showers of rose petals are descending in a miraculous manner at the Carmelite Convent where a nun has claimed numerous apparitions of the Blessed Virgin. So great has been the interest that a canonical investigation is being carried on to substantiate claims made by the

Council Appoints Traffic Committee

Loyola's Student Council has appointed a committee of three to investigate the traffic situation on the Evergreen campus. Clinton Bamberger, Francis Meagher and Francis X. Gallagher will propose a new system of campus traffic management to the Council. It is hoped that some campus roads can be made one-way and that the parking situation can be somewhat alleviated.

The committee has suggested that the Charles Street entrance be open only to incoming traffic and that the other two campus gates serve two-way traffic.

Greyhound Awarded Second Place Rating

THE GREYHOUND was rated second in the recent Baltimore-Washington Catholic College Press Conference held at St. Joseph's College, Emmitsburg. Catholic University's The Tower received the first place rating and was awarded the Trockenbrot Trophy for general excellence in all fields of Catholic college newspaper endeavor.

Many of the editors and staff members of THE GREYHOUND attended the Conference. In addition to attending the many informative talks provided at the meeting, a number of editors served as judges in the Catholic high school writing tournament. Francis X. Gallagher, C. Rodgers Kines, Eugene Conroy, David Maguire and James Bowen aided other college students in judging the merits of the high school students.

Students Back Ober Bill Move

Under the sponsorship of THE GREYHOUND, 200 letters were mailed to Governor Lane demanding action on the anti-subversive act which is now before the State Legislature. The bill, which was proposed by the Ober commission, makes stipulations which permit direct action against subversive groups within the State.

THE GREYHOUND has been most active in the past few weeks in attempting to point out the rising Communistic threat. The last issue contained an article on the Mindszenty case which pointed out the real evils of the trial and its tremendous political implications.

Communist front organizations are making every effort to combat the bill before the Legislature. A number of public demonstrations have been held and literature condemning the bill has been circulated. It was because of these facts that THE GREYHOUND deemed it advisable for the College to make an organized effort in favor of the measure.

Passion Play Television Planned For Good Friday

Four presentations, including one telecast, are scheduled for "Thy Kingdom Come," the Passion Play, which will be presented by the Mask and Rapier Dramatic Society of Loyola College. On Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of Holy Week, the drama will be presented in the auditorium of St. Mary's, Govans. The final presentation will be made at the Baltimore Museum of Art on Good Friday, when the play will also be televised.

At the present time, plans also include a special performance for the Orphans of the city but no definite date has been set, according to Robert S. Custer, President of the Dramatic Society.

Theme Outlined

"The theme of the play will bring into view a modern setting inasmuch as it is essentially a comparison between the persecution of Christ and the present day persecution of Christianity," says George Herman.

The Rev. Leo P. Monaghan, S. J., has completed revisions of the script and has cut the running time of the play from its original two hours and fifteen minutes to one hour and three quarters. A schedule for rehearsals has been drawn up in such a manner as to avoid conflict with the students' class hours.

Cast Announced

The cast has been selected and scripts are being prepared. The role of Caiphas will be played by Robert Custer. Peter will be portrayed by Emerson Clarke, Pilate by Larry Davis, Sardon by George Herman, Judas by Cyril Keller, the Priest by James Dietz, Thomas by Frank Gallagher, Malchus by Donald Fay, John by Frank Smith, James by Gerry Kimmitt, and Martin by Joseph Sills.

James Burke will enact the role of Benjamin, Jacob will be played by Rodgers Kines, Samuel by Thomas Petr, Isaac by Robert Feuka, Longinus by Conrad Janish, Hanum by Robert DeLisle, Plavis by David Maguire.

Edward will be played by Stanley Andrezejewski, Robert by William Wotjek, George by William Eggleston, Leo by Stanley Stone, and Simon by Daniel Shehan.

N.D.M. Sing Song

The Recreation Association of the College of Notre Dame of Maryland has extended an invitation to the students and faculty of Loyola College to attend the matinee performance of the twenty-second annual performance of the Sing Song.

The event is scheduled for four p. m. on the afternoon of Thursday, March 31. The following Saturday evening, the contest will be held to determine which class has the best program.

Two Alumni Figure In Murder Trial

When Thomas A. Edwards was tried for the double murder of John Mahlan and Mary Kline in Glenn Burnie, the counsel for the defense was William J. McWilliams, a Loyola graduate of the class of '26 while the prosecuting attorney was Anselm Sodaro also a graduate of the class of '31.

In a case of this nature, where the defendant is economically unable to provide for his own defense, a counsel is appointed by the court.

A fee of $100 is paid by the court for the services of the defending lawyer whether the case lasts for one hour or several weeks.

Sodality Union Day, March 13

A Day of Recollection will be sponsored by the Sodality Union of Baltimore at Evergreen in the library this Sunday, March 13. Students from Loyola, Notre Dame of Maryland, Mount Saint Agnes and Johns Hopkins will participate in the annual affair.

The Rev. Walter J. Burghardt, S. J., Professor of Patrology at Woodstock College, will be the speaker. The day will open with Mass in the Student's Chapel at 9:00 a. m.

The round table discussion will be supervised by the Rev. Gustav Weigel, S. J., and the Rev. John J. Scanlan, S. J. Father Weigel will head the discussion on "The Catholic Church and Psychiatry" while Father Scanlan will lead the discussion on "Moral Problems Facing Catholic College Students Today."

Father Weigel, a former professor at Loyola, is presently teaching at Woodstock College. Before coming to Loyola last year, he was assigned to South American work. Father Scanlan is the Moderator of THE GREYHOUND, and is also scheduled to conduct the Cana Conference Day of Recollection. Loyola married men and their wives will attend talks on March 27.

The Rev. Leo P. Monaghan, S. J., Moderator of the Sodality Union, has drawn up the schedule for Sunday. The cafeteria will be open all day.

Rifle Team Loses To Kings College

In the first match between the two schools, King's College of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., beat the rifle team of Loyola by a score of 962-930. The match was fired at the Calvert Hall Range on February 25 at 2:00 p. m.

The match had five men shooting for each side. Loyola's top man was Vernon Lemmon who turned in a 96 average. Jack Donovan, of the visiting five, averaged 99.

My Finest Hour

So many (2) of my friends have been urging me to write the story of my life that I thought it would be only just if I were to relate a few pertinent particulars.

A Humble Beginning

(Story is copyrighted by New York Times and Time & Life.)

I was born of wealthy but honest parents in Baltimore. Funny things happen in Washington, too. I left Baltimore at the age of two—mostly because I couldn't take it with me. At the age of four, I fell in love. She was a mature adolescent of three. As a matter of fact, everybody agreed she was quite old for her years. At times, she admitted it herself; but as a rule, she was not given to undue bragging. Our parents objected; and in a way, it was understandable. We agreed to be sensible and put the wedding off for a year.

Next Week—Life As It Is Lived

On The Double

Jack and Dick Horrigan, Loyola's identical twins, pulled the neatest trick of the week while playing intra-mural basketball last week for the same team. Neither wore numbers on his uniform. They dressed exactly alike.

Whenever a foul was called on one of them, the score-keeper had to stop the game to find out whether Jack or Dick was the culprit.

If the foul was called on Dick and he had one more than Jack, the twins would inform the referee that the foul was committed by Jack. They kept the count even throughout the entire game and consequently neither one left the game on fouls.

How do I know? Quite simple, Watson. One of them has a few black hairs growing about a half an inch above the right eyebrow. If you ask which one, the answer is I don't know.

The Social Science Club, with Moderator, Mr. Myer F. Tobey, S. J., presented a lecture by John Downey on "Alcoholism," on Thursday, March 3. The talk illustrated the effects of alcoholism on our social structure and described the work of Alcoholics Anonymous.

Several weeks before, the club held a round table discussion with the Social Science Club of Morgan State College on "The Negro Problem." Edward North and Edward Fredericks presented papers on the subject. In the discussion that followed, it was agreed that it is in reality a Negro-White problem.

Talk On Segregation

After much discussion on segregation, it was decided to have a second round table discussion on this subject. On Tuesday, March 8, this meeting was held. Dr. John J. O'Connor, President of the Interracial Council of Washington was the principal speaker.

The combined group of students found that intelligent discussion of racial problems will reduce racial friction.

Other Discussions Planned

A round table talk with Goucher College and a visit to the Maryland State Prison are planned for the near future.

The object of the club is to acquire an objective understanding of current social problems and to attempt their solution. It also aims to break down existing social prejudices and barriers.

Direct Hookup Made For Cedarville Tilt

More than one hundred students gathered at the headquarters of the Evergreen Club to hear a play by play description of the Loyola College vs. Cedarville College basketball game from the N. A. I. B. tourney at Kansas City. The game was held at 11:30 p. m. Tuesday. Vince Bagli relayed the game by phone.

A Western Union hookup was arranged through Bill McElroy and Gordon Jacobowski. The Evergreen Club donated the use of its facilities so that as many students as possible might hear the game. The school authorities promised the room for the following evening.

History Group Discusses 1812

Dr. William D. Hoyt, moderator of the Loyola College History Club, has announced the program for the meeting held at the home of Oliver Krastell.

The agenda includes various phases of the War of 1812, in particular, its relation to Baltimore and Maryland. Four main points were taken under discussion. The attack on Fort M'Henry, The Battle of North Point, The Civilian Defense of Baltimore and the work of the Baltimore Privateers were considered.

Newly elected officers of the club are Howard Will, President, and Daniel Bowerman, Secretary.

The main club interest of this year is the completion of the History of the Background of Loyola College.

Quarterly Features Named By Editor

John O. Scrimger, Literary Editor of the Evergreen Quarterly, has announced some of the features of the forthcoming issue.

Among the more unusual contributions contained are Poetry by C. M. Near and Courtney Johnson, Short Stories by Donald M. Swartz and Francis X. Gallagher, and a one picture story by James K. Lightner entitled "Laughing Chimera".

The issue, scheduled to appear in the near future, will contain, "The best poetry ever to appear in a Loyola Quarterly."

I.R.C. To Be Represented At Model United Nations

Four members of the Loyola International Relations Club, together with the Club's moderator, Dr. Harry W. Kirwin, will attend the next meeting of the Model General Assembly of the United Nations, to be held at Rutgers University from March 31 to April 2.

The Loyolans, Emerson V. Clarke, James H. Dietz, Martin Klein, and Peter F. Stehle, will "represent" the South American republic of Ecuador at the Model General Assembly, in which eighty colleges are scheduled to participate.

To Visit Security Council

The I.R.C. also plans to send two members, Louis R. Batzler and Anthony F. Vogel, to Lake Success, New York, on Monday, March 14, to witness the United Nations Security Council in operation.

On Saturday, February 26, Denis Scully, Joseph Sills, and Walter Smyth represented the Club at a panel, "Tensions Affecting International Relations," at Mt. St. Agnes College.

Smyth presided at one of the several panels that were operating simultaneously throughout the day.

Attend Panel-Lecture Series

The I.R.C. was also represented at a lecture, "Philosophy in Time of Crisis," by Dr. Otto F. Kraushaar, President of Goucher College, which was held at the Towson Presbyterian Church on Sunday, March 6.

This lecture, the third in a panel-lecture series of two panels and four debates, was preceded, on February 27, by a talk, "The Church and World Crisis," by the Rev. Robert B. Cunningham, Pastor of Hamilton Presbyterian Church.

The week before, on February 20, a panel discussion, "Critical Views on World Crisis," was held. The

Early Textbook Orders Urged

The Student Council, in its meeting of February 17, passed a resolution to recommend to the Dean of Studies that instructors be required to submit to the Campus Shop the names of the textbooks to be used in their courses at least two weeks before the beginning of each semester.

According to the Council, this will give the Campus Shop an accurate idea of how many books to order and time in which to obtain them, thereby making texts available to all who want them when they need them.

At times in the past, insufficient numbers of books have been ordered, and some students have not been able to get texts until two or three weeks after the semester began.

The Student Council also passed a resolution to post the minutes of each meeting on the bulletin board outside the Campus Shop.

By posting the minutes of its meetings, the Student Council hopes to effect closer student co-operation by keeping the student body better informed on Council activities.

At its regular meeting on March 1, the Club heard the second talk of a debatelike discussion of the present Chinese civil war, at which David R. Preller presented the Communist side. On February 15 the Nationalist position was given by Anthony F. Vogel.

Both of these talks, each of which was approximately twenty minutes long, were followed by a general discussion and questions from the floor.

Glee Club Schedules Six Spring Concerts

The Loyola College Glee Club, under director Felice Iula, is completing preparations for a concert to be held at Notre Dame of Maryland and tentatively scheduled for Friday, March 18.

This concert, the first of a heavy and varied program, will feature such songs as "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," "Shenandoah," and "Lift up Thine Eyes," as well as selections by the newly formed Glee Club quartet.

Annapolis Program Planned

The Club's next performance will be a concert at the Jenkins Memorial Hospital on Sunday, March 27, which will be followed by another at Mt. St. Agnes sometime during the first part of April.

On Sunday, April 24, the Glee Club will sing at St. Mary's High School Auditorium, Annapolis.

To Sing In Mass Concert

The major presentation of the year, the Annual Spring Concert, will be held at the Alcazar on Friday, May 13. The Club will leave immediately thereafter for White Plains, New York, where it will take part in the Annual Mass Concert of the Associated Male Chorus of America.

Approximately 2500 voices, including 60 from Loyola, will participate in this concert, which will bring together choral groups from all sections of the country.

Successful Oyster Roast

Approximately two hundred and eighty members of the Alumni Association gathered at Evergreen last Sunday for the annual Oyster Roast. The Chairman of the affair, Robert W. McCaffrey, '41, reported that he was very pleased with the turnout and the cooperation of his committee.

Certainly, many members of the Association had an opportunity to see classmates and spend an enjoyable afternoon with them—something that is not done enough these days.

1949 Bills Mailed

Two thousand members of the Alumni received bills for the 1949 dues during the middle of February. Dr. Edward A. Doehler, '31, Financial Secretary of the organization, expressed hope that the entire Association would mail in checks as soon as possible.

Officers look for an increase in the number paying dues. Last year, only four hundred did pay them.

Banquet News

As has been reported elsewhere in this issue, Louis Budenz will be the Guest Speaker at the Alumni Banquet on April 21. Jules O. Knight, '36, Chairman of the Banquet Committee, has announced that tickets will be available around the end of March.

Alumni Association Paper Uses Photo-Offset Printing Method

The Alumni Newsletter, monthly organ of the Loyola Alumni Association, started using the photo-offset method of printing in its latest issue, which went to press last week, it was announced by John H. Plunkett, '48, editor of the publication.

Also featured in the March issue is a special script headline on page one, which was done by Lawrence P. Smith, a Loyola senior. Until the present the Newsletter was typewritten on stencils and then mimeographed.

Greyhound Men On Staff

The editorial staff of the monthly is composed of former GREYHOUND editors Plunkett, Terrence E. Burke, '48, and Spencer L. Davidson, '48, and present GREYHOUND editor Francis X. Gallagher.

The paper publishes the minutes of the meeting of the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association, alumni social and sports events, news of Loyola, and other features of interest to alumni.

Plunkett and Burke usually handle news items, editorials, and page make-up, with Davidson writing sports and some news features, and Gallagher the news from Loyola.

President Commends Paper

The need of an organ to keep School alumni posted on Executive Committee meetings and plans for alumni activities was first realized around the middle of last year.

Through the boosting of Francis J. Mueller, First Vice-President of the Alumni Association, and Instructor in Mathematics at Loyola, the paper got its start.

Recently, Mr. Louis C. Roche, President of the Association, had this to say about the Newsletter: "It fills a long-standing need for a regular bulletin of alumni activities."

The Critilog

by George Herman

Critics have torn into the picture Enchantment on the grounds that it was overlaid with an excess of sentiment. Granted, but it doesn't necessarily follow that sentimentality per se is an unwanted commodity in the theatre.

Anyone capable of emotion will pay heavily for the rare nostalgia that comes from remembering better days in the past, plus the realization that these better days will never return. However, the sentimentality that too frequently slips into the theatre is not based on this formula, but on a whispered, poor-poetry love scene.

Too frequently this formula or a near substitute creeps into pictures based on the lives of the saints; and as a result we have a picture of a human being who walks around on ethereal clouds with angels visible above her head, and who never opens her mouth except to pour forth beautiful epigrams based on a wisdom that supposedly comes with age. Saints were human. The fact that they became saints seems even more wonderful when we consider that they were human. Why not picture them that way? This is the phoney sentimentalism that kills that ingredient with the American critics—not sentiment alone.

The Look magazine awards for theatre prominence were fine except for the award to Oliva de Havilland. Granted that Miss de Havilland was superior; but an actress is judged by the authenticity of emotion, and voice is a means of expressing emotion. How much harder, therefore, would it be for an actress like Jane Wyman to play a deaf-mute exceedingly well than for Oliva de Havilland to scream and play a psychomaniac?

A Reply To The Hopkins Newsletter

(Usually, THE GREYHOUND editorial staff chooses to overlook remarks and stories appearing in certain college newspapers even though they are somewhat detrimental to the good name of Loyola. An example is a recent issue of the University of Maryland "Diamondback" in which an unethical attack was indirectly made on the administration policies of Loyola College.

We considered the narrow minds from whence the smart-aleck attitude arose and we let it pass unmentioned. However, we feel that the malicious and highly misleading attack on Loyola College and its athletic policies by certain "crusading" members of "The Johns Hopkins Newsletter" in the February 25 issue of that newspaper cannot go unanswered. The vicious nature of the attack was so repugnant to all the accepted standards of a college newspaper that we find ourselves obligated to point out to the staff of the "Newsletter" that they have certain social obligations which must overrule personal opinion and prejudice. Good taste demands a reply.)

We are exceedingly sorry that the editors of the Johns Hopkins newspaper, The Newsletter, have seen fit to assemble a hodgepodge of untruths and draw from them a series of illogical and defamating conclusions. Before we answer their charges, we would like to make it known that we regret that juvenile, immature judgement on their part has made necessary this action. We have always been anxious that a spirit of friendly rivalry should exist between our institutions. It is our hope that the journalists will see in our reply not a personal attack but only an attempt to clear their minds of certain intellectual debris.

Loyola College was rebuked by the journalists of Hopkins because we do not prohibit freshmen from engaging in varsity sports. Our error in this concern arises from the fact (says the Newsletter) that Hopkins does prohibit freshmen from such competition. We remind the Hopkins literati that there is no rule in the Mason-Dixon Conference prohibiting the use of freshmen in Varsity sports. If Hopkins chooses to penalize itself, the responsibility for any loss incurred rests with Hopkins alone.

The Anderson Argument

The Hopkins newsmen illustrated their argument by pointing out that Loyola allows Bob Anderson, a freshman, to play Varsity basketball. Gentlemen, Bob Anderson is not a freshman. He is an upper classman. You are invited to check with the Office of the Dean.

The primary duty of a good reporter is to check the validity of his facts. This was not done by the Hopkins journalists. How could it be expected that they could draw satisfactory conclusions from such a distortion of truth?

The Baldwin Argument

The Hopkins newsmen further said in the article on page one that Loyola's coach, Lefty Reitz, had stated that he intended to use Mel Baldwin for five years of college ball, one for Jayvee and the other four for Varsity. Lefty Reitz did not make that statement. Furthermore such an intention does not exist. Once again, where facts should have been employed, the Hopkins newsmen substituted imagination.

In its use of the Baldwin case, the Hopkins newsmen sought to show the abuses arising from what they called "midyear importations." They were not sensible in using this example. Baldwin was graduated from Patterson Park High School in January of 1949. It was quite natural that he did not wish to lose a half year by waiting until September to enter college. Therefore when he entered Loyola, there was no injustice being done to anyone—except perhaps to the Hopkins journalists. Loyola has been accepting a certain number of mid-year students for the past five years. Once again, the Hopkins newsmen are invited to check.

The Pocketbook Argument

It was implied in another article of the Newsletter that Loyola competes in the open market for players—as much as our pocketbook allows. Is this Johns Hopkins that casts the first stone? Gentlemen, we pay no one to attend Loyola regardless of whether he plays basketball or lacrosse. You are invited to check our books.

Before dismissing the entire attack as a conglomeration of distorted facts, senseless conclusions, and sour grapes, we would like to state that we know that the Newsletter does not represent the official attitude of the Johns Hopkins University. We have been assured of that by Hopkins officials. It is rather sad that a great institution like Hopkins must answer to the public for such deviations from ethical standards.

In their unwarranted charges and in their blasting methods, those responsible on the Newsletter have done no service to the traditions of college newspapermen.

We are sorry that they chose to adopt such an improper course of action.

Congratulations!

The recent election of Dr. Edward A. Doehler to the office of President of the Baltimore Section of the Holy Name Society was an honor not only for him but also for Loyola College, his alma mater. Certainly, Dr. Doehler is most deserving of the position to which he has been elected. For well over a decade, He has been one of the mainstays of the Baltimore Holy Name Group. Throughout the State of Maryland, he has gained a widespread reputation as an interesting speaker and an ardent worker.

We have reason to be pleased because the election of a Loyola College graduate is a strong indication that our alumni are taking an active interest in the welfare of the parishes. It has been charged, and truthfully so, that Catholic College graduates are not assuming their position in the Catholic life of the parish and diocese. This is a serious charge and implies that the guilty are quite blameworthy.

The number one excuse is, of course, lack of time. To those who make use of this age-worn alibi, we would like to point to Dr. Doehler. His teaching duties engage him not only during the day but in the evening also. Besides his Holy Name Society work, he is active in civic affairs and in other Catholic organizations, the Catholic Youth Organization in particular.

Thar's Golden Music In Them Thar Hills

by Dick Coleman

During the past month there seems to be a tendency for the top artists in the recording field to take a chance on the issuance of glorified hillbilly and western tunes. For instance Ray McKinley on Victor and Sinatra on Columbia and last, but by far the biggest, Dick (Two Ton) Baker on Mercury have all presented for public approval a commercial version of "Sunflower." It's catchy and will probably sell its million.

Another along the same line was issued recently by Sammy Kaye and his Orchestra on Victor. The tune is titled "Careless Hands." To me it sounds like a take-off of Jon and Sandra Steele's original "My Happiness." The tune is smooth but hillbilly. The vocalists are Don Cornell with our own Baltimorean Laura Leslie (Betty Wells).

Crosby Fighting

Quite a few of us can remember the days when Crosby and Columbo were dueling it out to see who would take the top rung. Then came the unfortunate incident when Columbo accidentally shot himself. From then up to a few years ago Crosby was probably America's most popular crooner.

When going through the old files at 'CBM the other night I came across an old recording by Crosby entitled "An Apple for the Teacher." In the same stack I also found a recording by Ted Weems and his Orchestra with a young fella named Perry Como on the vocal of "In My Little Red Book." I venture to say that if it weren't for the names on the labels of the records very few of us would ever be able to tell them apart. But, man, how times have changed.

Arnold Is Tops

Eddy Arnold (Hillbilly) is the top-selling recording artist today, Como is second and Crosby, third. Of course, most people seem to think Crosby just doesn't care anymore. Well, if I had stood in front of as many microphones as Crosby has, I guess I'd be a little tired of them too. Wouldn't you?

Tournament Invitations Keep Coming To Loyola

by Mickey Parr, Sports Editor

Not only is Loyola's basketball team participating in three post-season tournaments during the current rush of invitations extended to outstanding teams all over the country, but a conflict of schedules has forced Greyhound Athletic Department heads to turn down a bid to a fourth hardwood scramble.

Last Friday word was received from the sponsors of the Queen City Invitation Tournament, to be held at Cincinnati, Ohio, that Loyola was among the four teams desired for a two-night affair. The other quintets were La Salle, Cincinnati, and Xavier.

However, the scheduled dates, March 7 and 9, interfered with the N. A. I. B. tournament, to which Loyola was committed if we won the Mason-Dixon playoffs. With the final game (against Hampden-Sydney) still to be played, the Queen City officials permitted Rev. Robert P. Arthur, Loyola's athletic moderator, to hold off until the contest was over.

You know the rest of the story, but the fact remains that we would have merely entrained for Cincinnati instead of Kansas City, if Hampden-Sydney had taken the laurels at Washington. By the way, William and Mary was selected as a replacement for Loyola.

Hopkins' Writer Displeased With Sports Relationships

It's too bad that the Johns Hopkins University authorities don't exercise a more stringent control over the campus publication at Homewood. At least it would appear that this need exists, for it's hard to imagine that a front page editorial, such as that in the February 25 issue of The Johns Hopkins News-Letter would meet with the approval of the University officials.

Not only does the story's author show negligence in the accuracy of his statements, as noted elsewhere in THE GREYHOUND, but a lack of propriety rears its ugly head from between the lines.

Hopkins may be sadly in need of basketball victories, but it seems to me that Loyola has been losing lacrosse games to them for several years, but no accusations have been hurled toward Homewood. And Hopkins is still on the Loyola lacrosse schedule.

If the News-Letter would like to see better athletic relations for the Blue Jays' teams, why isn't a solution sought on a sensible basis, instead of epithets being thrown around with careless abandon? Loyola's name has been smudged without proper reason.

A thought comes to mind regarding the situation during the 1948-49 Mason-Dixon Conference season. Though Hampden-Sydney won the regular season title, with 12 straight victories, Loyola was rated the favorite in the post-season tournament. This resulted from the differences in the two teams' schedules. Why not eliminate such discrepancies by having each M-D team play a round-robin schedule?

Two Tournaments Listed In Basketball Wind-Up

Loyola's basketball team, having tucked away the Mason-Dixon Tournament, headed westward for Kansas City last Sunday, to enter the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament, which began on March 7.

The Greyhounds automatically received an invitation to this tournament, by virtue of their triumph in the Mason-Dixon Conference's post-season affair at Washington.

Though unsuccessful in two previous appearances at Kansas City, the Reitzmen are counting on the added height of Bob Anderson to raise their 1949 chances.

The team will take another extended jaunt, in approximately a week, to the National Catholic Invitation Tournament in Denver, Colorado. Play at Denver begins on March 20. Possible opponents include St. Thomas of Minnesota, St.

Francis of Brooklyn, Siena, and La Salle.

Ben Cook, of Loyola's B-squad, goes high for a rebound as teammate Rip Roberts and three Roanoke players eye his attempt. Loyola won the M-D junior varsity crown in this test, 57 to 55.

Matmen Win At Gallaudet

The Greyhound matmen handed Gallaudet its first defeat of the season, 23-5, on February 26 at Gallaudet.

The Loyola "grunt and groaners" took seven of the eight matches. Using his faithful leg dive, Bob Weiss, of Loyola, scored six points to shut out his opponent, Bob Snyder, in the opening bout. Loyola's John Mercaldo, in outstandingly good form, put down Ed Desmarais, scoring 2 points each for a takedown, a reverse, and time on top.

Haupt Is Pinned

Fighting above his weight, 130-pound Ted Haupt was pinned by fast and tricky Matthew Burns, of Gallaudet, in 2 minutes and 17 seconds. Steve Krizan, of Loyola, and Cliff Bruffey put on the best tussle of the afternoon. Krizan won 9-4 and had to use all his wits to beat his strong opponent.

The Green and Grey's Mus Bower, in top condition, fought a very fast man, Joe Turk, and beat him 5-2. By pulling him down with his feet Mus scored a takedown; later he broke away and was awarded two points for time.

Meagher Scores Win

In the 165-pound class, Franny Meagher upped the Loyola score as he lowered his adversary with a swift takedown, in 2 minutes and 45 seconds.

The 175-pound bout brought together the Greyhounds' Carter Beese and Olon Lawrence. The latter continually had trouble with a loose bandage. Beese scored eight points with two takedowns, a reverse and time.

Jeep Mueller continued his winning ways for Loyola in the heavy-weight clash, scoring a 4-0 decision. Apparently fearful of hurting his lighter opponent, Mueller eased up his power during the match.

121-Pounds—Weiss, Loyola, decisioned Snyder, 6-0.

128-Pounds—Mercaldo, Loyola, decisioned Desmarais, 6-0.
136-Pounds—Burns, Gallaudet, threw Haupt in two minutes, 17 sec.
145-Pounds—Krizan, Loyola, decisioned Bruffey, 7-4.
155-Pounds—Bower, Loyola decisioned Turk, 5-1.
165-Pounds—Meagher, Loyola threw Vasnick in two min., 45 sec.
175-Pounds—Beese, Loyola, decisioned Lowrance, 8-1.

Swimmers In First Loss

by John Bailey

LaSalle College's powerful swimmers toppled two records as they splashed to a 45-30 triumph over Loyola at Evergreen, on February 27.

The Explorers smashed their own 300-yard medley relay record that was established in the Loyola pool two years ago. The other record to be lowered was the 100-yard freestyle standard, as the visiting team, unbeaten this season, captured six of the eight events. Bobby Regan, of LaSalle, broke the freestyle mark with a 54.5 effort.

Fisher Wins

Jake Fisher, Loyola's undefeated 50-yard freestyler, raced to victory in his specialty with his fastest time of the year, 25 seconds flat. This was only .7 of a second off the pool record.

Jake also played an important role in the Loyola triumph in the 400-yard freestyle relay. Teaming with Fisher in this event were John Allen, Bill Klarner and Bert Dunn. Verdeur Outstanding Olympic champion Joe Verdeur displayed unmatched prowess in leading the Explorers to a win in the 300-yard medley and the 200-yard breaststroke.

Clint Bamberger bowed for the first time in eight starts as Verdeur touched the wire in 2:24.4. Verdeur holds the Evergreen record of 2:22.3 for this event.

B-Squad Wins Junior Crown

Loyola's B-squad basketballers, playing the preliminary game to last Thursday's Mason-Dixon Tournament finale at Catholic University, nosed out Roanoke College's junior team, 57 to 55, to win the M-D Junior Varsity title.

The Greyhound team thereby maintained a perfect mark against conference members, completing its schedule with 13 straight victories.

Mel Baldwin, aggressive forward, formerly of Patterson Park, topped the Green and Grey scorers with 24 points, although Skip Skevin, of Roanoke, was head man in the game with 27 tallies.

Ben Cook's fine work on rebounds and Baldwin's one-hand shooting were important factors in the Loyola triumph. The game was nip-and-tuck all the way, and during the final two and one-half minutes, Loyola applied the 'freeze' successfully, though losing possession of the ball twice.

Loyola Quint Trims Hopkins

Loyola's basketball Greyhounds made it win number 11, as they subdued the Blue Jays from Johns Hopkins, 68 to 46 in a Mason-Dixon Conference contest on Wednesday, February 23.

The game, played on the losers' court, saw the Green and Grey turn the power on late in the second quarter. By the beginning of the fourth stanza, the visitors possessed a sizable lead, and were never headed.

Freshmen End Court Season

With Red Schneider showing the way with a total of 98 points, the Freshman basketball team completed its season with a record of five wins and a like number of losses.

The Freshmen first took the measure of the B squad by a 30 to 28 score as Lee Bardelman paced the scoring with eight points. The game was characterized by fine defensive play on the part of both teams.

In their next outing, the pups fell victim to a powerful Villanova five, losing by the score of 86 to 38. Lee Bardelman and Ronnie Johnson led the Greyhounds in the scoring column with nine points apiece.

"Pups" Retaliate

The Green and Gray retaliated by toppling the Loyola Dons 50 to 36. Frank Lastner led the point-making parade in this game with 16 markers, racking up 12 of them in the last 20 minutes of play.

Towson Catholic then felt the power of the young Greyhounds, absorbing a 60-38 shellacking as Red Schneider poured 14 points through the cords.

After their convincing win over the Owls the Freshmen fell before St. Paul's Crusaders, champs of the Private Schools in Baltimore, by a 39 to 31 score.

Gaels Top Freshman

Mt. St. Joe followed this with a 54 to 46 win over the Greyhounds in a game which saw the lead change hands fifteen times, with the Gaels pulling away in the last few minutes of the contest.

After losing to Calvert Hall, and St. Paul once more, the Frosh wound up their season with a 60 to 41 win over the Red Shield Boys Club of Hampden, Maryland. Red Schneider was the high man with 14 tallies.

The starting five consisted of Ben Cook at center, Red Schneider and Frank Lastner at the forward positions, and Lee Bardelman and Ronnie Johnson at the guard posts. Alan Meehan, Fred Furst, Bill Vacek, Tom McCormak, Ed Lottes, Bernie Epple and Bill Flach rounded out the twelve-man squad.

With such a wealth of talent coming up for varsity competition next season, Coach Lefty Reitz's future looks good.

Natators, Matmen Prep For M-D Tournaments

Swimming

The Loyola College swimming pool will be the scene of the Mason-Dixon Conference Swimming tournament, which begins this evening at 6 p.m. and continues until 11. The finals will be held tomorrow, at 2 p.m.

Aside from Loyola, which copped last year's crown, Johns Hopkins and American U. are sending strong teams to Evergreen to vie for the championship.

Entry List Bulges

Catholic U., Roanoke, Randolph-Macon, plus representatives from Baltimore U. and Mt. St. Mary's, will be on hand to snare the aquatic laurels.

Loyola, with Capt. Clint Bamberger, last year's 200-yard breast-stroke champion leading the way, boasts a squad with many of the 1948 champions in the line-up.

Blondell, Mohler Ready

Jack Blondell, 440-yard freestyler, captured the victor's laurels last season. John Mohler, title-holding springboard artist, is also a repeat performer in this year's festivities.

The medley relay team of Tom Maskell, Bill Klarner, and Andy McCormick, will present stiff opposition to the other contenders.

Wrestling

Johns Hopkins University will resound with the grunts and groans of the Mason-Dixon Wrestling Tournament, which will be held there today, starting at 3 p.m. The finals of the season's mat sport will be held at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The tournament roster, boasting such fine teams as Loyola, Galaudet, Catholic U., Western Maryland, Towson State Teachers, and Hopkins, should provide two thrill-packed days for wrestling enthusiasts.

Hopkins Boasts Veterans

Johns Hopkins, last year's champions, boasts a veteran squad. Loyola College, which placed three of its group on the individual championship list last year, is back with a seasoned ensemble to challenge the Blue Jays' supremacy.

Jeep Mueller, top heavyweight for the Green and Grey, and last year's M-D champion, will face Bill Kerns, of Western Maryland. Kerns won in the first outing between the two earlier this year.

Two Defend Laurels

Carter Beese, and Steve Krizan, 175 and 145-pound champions last year, face stern tests as they defend their laurels. Adam Leipold, Hopkins' 1946 champ, will face Krizan in a middleweight test.

John Mercaldo, 128-pounder defeated only once this season, looms as a real contender in his division. Franny Meagher, Loyola's 165-pound champion three years ago, looks to be almost a sure bet in his class.

Co-Captain Mus Bower, runnerup in the tournament for the past two seasons, stands an excellent chance of bringing home the crown in the 155-pound bracket.

Greyhound Cagers Win Finale, 56-53

In their last regular Mason-Dixon contest of the 1948-49 season, Loyola's Greyhounds edged Washington College, 56 to 53, on February 26, at Chestertown, Md. The Green and Grey led by a narrow two point margin at halftime, and had to stave off a Sho'men rally in the waning minutes to cop its twelfth win in thirteen outings.

As of this victory, the Greyhounds cemented their hold upon second place in the Conference standings behind Hampden-Sydney.

Keystoners Take Cage Crown In Intramurals

Basketball

The Keystoners have taken on all comers in the intramurals and are now recognized as the champion quint of Loyola. The last rung in the ladder to fame was in the 27 to 25 nipping of Gus Gilbert's heralded Celtics.

Bill Fannon snared high-scoring honors with a 12 point output as the Keystoners played their best game of the season. Jim Cook helped to keep the victors in the lead with several long set shots, but in the end it was Don Fay who sewed up the game with three last second foul shots. Frank Kearney and Jim O'Connor led the losers with seven points apiece.

Loyola lost its only intercollegiate intramural basketball contest when the Keystoners bowed to the Hopkins' champs by a 50 to 33 score. The game marked the end of a very successful season in Intramurals, which was a credit to Director Franny Mueller and his assistant, Larry Smith.

Ping Pong

Big Walt Sibiski's unerring forehead shots and caginess paved the way for his becoming the new ping-pong champ of Loyola. In the finals, Walt defeated Ed Ward 21-18, 11-21, and 21-18 to climax his fine play through the tourney.

The table swatters are organizing for a match at Baltimore U. in response to a challenge.

Ed Ward reached the finals by defeating Ed Haggerty and several other fine players. The Sibiski-

Greyhounds Advance In Tournament With Two Wins

The Greyhounds started their victory climb to the Mason-Dixon Tournament Championship by defeating Roanoke College of Salem, Virginia, 68 to 50, on March 1 at the Catholic University gymnasium.

Although he accounted for only four points in the first half, Jim Lacy managed to lead the scoring column for the evening with 16 points. Next in line were Andy O'Donnell and Mike Zedalis, each with 15 tallies.

Nip And Tuck

The initial half of the game was a nip and tuck affair as neither team was able to establish a substantial lead. Loyola, however, pulled away from the plucky Virginians as the second half began and was never in serious trouble after the three-quarter mark.

After foul shots were traded, Carl Kummer, who with 14 points to his credit was top scorer for the Virginia hoopsters, hooked in a left-handed shot to give the Salem school a 4 to 1 lead. Two quick baskets by Zedalis and O'Donnell put the Greyhounds on top, 5 to 4.

Greyhounds Pull Away

For the next 9 minutes, the two teams played on even terms until Lacy, scoring his first points of the evening, sank a long set to put the Green and Grey three points in front, 16 to 13. Jim then added a free throw, and Bob Anderson dropped in a hook shot to give Loyola a 19 to 13 lead as the first period ended. Roanoke knotted the count at 19-all on baskets by Ed Harless and Kummer, and two charity tosses by Frank Ferguson. O'Donnell put the Greyhounds ahead again with a set shot and a foul.

Meet The Faculty:

Durkin Makes The Grade, Pupil To Teacher In A Year

Among the newest additions to this year's faculty is Mr. Harold R. Durkin, who only last year graduated from Loyola with his Bachelor of Science in Accountancy.

After graduating from Baltimore Polytechnic, the twenty-seven year old accounting instructor enlisted in the Navy, seeing action in the invasion of Salerno and Sicily. In 1944 he was transferred from the Mediterranean theatre to Holy Cross as a member of the Navy V-12 program. Outstanding scholarship and extra-curricular activity gained him recognition and membership in the exclusive society of the Purple Key, an organization composed of individuals selected on the basis of their talent and achievements.

Back To Evergreen

In January of 1946, Mr. Durkin received his honorable discharge from the service, declining an offer to remain in V-12 with a commission because it interfered with his plans of getting married. One month later he took up his studies at Evergreen.

While at Loyola he attained the Dean's List on several occasions and was an active member of the Senior Sodality and the Married Men's Club.

Graduate Work In Business

Immediately after graduation he was employed in the accounting department of General Motors where he remained until his return to the campus as instructor. Mr. Durkin plans to take graduate work in his business major next year at the University of Maryland along with his teaching duties at Evergreen.

An amateur comedian in his own right, he is extremely critical of most radio comedians but thinks Fred Allen's humor is most entertaining.

Chess Group Plays Series

The Loyola College Chess Club, under President Robert Bordley, has half finished its five-week intramural chess tourney. The games, which began February 28, matched six teams of three men each, with each member playing one game per week. The final winner will be announced in early April.

The winner in the tourney will constitute the fifth member of Loyola's Chess team which will journey to Fordham University for the Jesuit College Tournament on April 18, 19, 20. Last year, the Evergreen chess players brought home second place in these matches.

Team Listed

The first four places on the team are held by Richard Ravenal, Edward Rowles, James Bradley and Bordley.

The group has just completed play in the Baltimore City Chess League Tournament, in which they placed second.

Arranging Navy Match

Now about one-third through their schedule, the club is arranging a match with the Naval Academy, but as yet has received no information on the games.

Next Monday, March 14, the Maryland State Intercollegiate Championships will commence. The matches will be held every Saturday thereafter. All students are welcome to enter. The chess team expects to have at least three members in the contest.

Budenz, Former Red, Will Speak At Alumni Banquet

Louis Budenz, former Communist and editor-in-chief of the official Communist Party organ, The Daily Worker, will be the principal speaker at the annual Loyola College Alumni Association Banquet at the Lord Baltimore Hotel on April 21.

Mr. Budenz, a convert to Catholicism, is the author of a recently published book, now a best seller, on the threat of Communism. The Very Rev. David Nugent, S. J., Provincial of the Maryland Province of the Society of Jesus, The Honorable Thomas D'Alesandro, Mayor of Baltimore, and the Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S. J., will be among the guests of honor.

Invitations have also been sent to Archbishop Keough and to Governor Lane by Jules Knight, '36, Chairman of the Banquet Committee. Other distinguished guests will be the Presidents of Loyola High School, Calvert Hall College and Mount Saint Joseph's College.

Tickets, priced at five dollars, will go on sale late in March.

Loyola Gains Moral Victory Over N.D.M.

Notre Dame of Maryland wound up one match to the good when a tired band of badminton players from Loyola College engaged them in a trial workout last week. However, all was not lost. One match remained before the meet was complete but it had to be cancelled due to other activities scheduled for the N. D. M. gym.

Stuart Galloway, local promoter, assured the press that Loyola would have emerged with a tie had the final match been played. We like to think so too, Stu.

Senior Section Completed

Completion of the senior section of the 1949 Evergreen yearbook has been announced by the annual staff. Portraits of the 320 graduates have been submitted to the engraver, and writeups of the individual seniors are in the hands of the printer.

Each senior aided in the writeup work, filling in his activity list and writing a character sketch of three other classmates. The staff, under Editor-in-Chief Donald E. Fay, edited the writeups into a uniform style.

James K. Lightner, Photography Editor, and his assistants have practically finished photo work for the first two sections of the book, fall and winter. Pictures of many of the various school activities were snapped this week.

The Rev. Joseph A. d'Inviillers, S. J., Moderator, and Calvert Kenning, Business Manager, announced that the patron drive has so far netted approximately five hundred dollars.
